Dear Dr. Henney:

I'm writing to urge the FDA to ban human antibiotics in animal feeds. The World Health Organization and our CDC have recommended ending antibiotic use in animal feed. Sweden has been doing this since 1986. I believe other European countries have now instituted certain restrictions.

As a former medical microbiologist, I have seen the effects of nosocomial infections caused by antibiotic-resistant bacteria. Physicians must also be more discriminant in prescribing these drugs.

Again, I urge you to support the WHO and EDF suggestions and help curb this serious problem.

Very truly yours,

Gloria Boudreau
